To Whom It May Concern,

I've recently learned the FCC is evaluating to ban the ability of HOAs/COAs like the one I live in and am president of, from being able to benefit from bulk internet and television services. If the FCC decides to ban the availability for our community our residents could see a spike in their internet costs of upwards of $200.00 or more monthly. We have a small community of 50 units, a little over 119 people and many of whom are seniors, veterans, disabled and/or receiving public assistance and many from housing authorities here in Broward County Florida. Without bulk so many of our residents will no longer be able to afford internet services or their current tv programs, due to their fixed incomes they will no longer have internet and/or tv services at all. As well as fewer options for internet and tv services. I know this from personal experience as well since I have been living here since 2008 and there were always only 2 service providers and until bulk I was stuck with 1 not very good one at a much higher price until March 2023 when my entire community switched to bulk, without allowing anyone to opt out. At that time I was able to save a substantial amount of money and my son never missed an assignment of homework because of no internet again. It would be a great disservice to so very many people if you were to remove the bulk internet services. Especially for my family personally and for so many other residents of The Coral Springs Estate Townhome Condominiums.

Respectfully,

Corey McCall
